No Nixon Gag On Cabinet Members Seen

Official Policy Pronouncements Only Banned Area

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon and his advisers see no need for any new instructions to Cabinet nominees about talking in public, despite the flurry of gold price speculation set off by the comments of David Kennedy, who is to head the Treasury Department.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press assistant, said Cabinet appointees should and will continue to discuss their views and philosophies.

But one area is off limits: There will be no policy pronouncements from the 12 Cabinet designates or the President-elect himself until after the Jan. 20 inauguration.

Ziegler said that policy, enunciated by Nixon for himself and his aides, remains unchanged.

Kennedy was one of three Cabinet designates due to see Nixon today. Ziegler said that meeting was arranged before the troublesome gold question arose.

That happened Tuesday in Washington when Kennedy, hewing to the Nixon instructions against policy statements, refused to flatly commit himself to the current $35-an-ounce price of gold.

This was taken by dealers in European gold markets as a hint that the new administration might not be wedded to the price which has stood unchanged for 34 years. Gold purchases and prices rose.

Nixon acted to dampen the speculation by announcing, through Ziegler, that he anticipates no change in the gold price.

Other Cabinet choices on the Nixon calling list today were Gov. Walter J. Hickel of Alaska, who is to be secretary of the interior, and George P. Shultz, designated secretary of labor.

Cambodia To Free 12 U.S. Soldiers

Mackle Kidnap Case Ransom Effort Fails

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A ransom payoff for kidnapped coed Barbara Jane Mackle was broken up here today, the FBI reported, when a policeman chased a suspicious car near Miami's bayside and recovered a suitcase stuffed with $500,000.

Also found in the car, abandoned by two persons near downtown Miami, was a skin-diving suit, apparently used in making pickup of the money from the waters of Biscayne Bay, the FBI confirmed.

A source close to the millionaire land developing family said in Atlanta earlier that Barbara Jane was alive and unharmed. He declined to elaborate.

The source confirmed the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mackle, had returned to their plush home at Coral Gables, Fla.

FBI agents, county and city police swarmed into the bayside area where Deputy P. S. Self found the money in the abandoned car. Helicopters and dogs were thrown into the search for the fugitives, one of whom carried a carbine rifle.

"My concern and the father's concern, is for the girl's safety," said Fred Fox, assistant special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office.

Fox said the fugitives abandoned a blue Volvo with Massachusetts license tags when Deputy Self noticed the car "where it shouldn't have been."

Fleeing the car, one fugitive carried the carbine. The other dropped the suitcase in his flight.

Packed into the suitcase were used $20 bills banded together in packages, each marked $1,000.

Miami Police Lt. James Knight said his estimate, without counting, was that the bag contained $500,000.

Fox confirmed the ransom effort involved putting the suitcase filled with money into Biscayne Bay where it was apparently recovered by boat.

Viet Cong Also Offer Release Of 3 Captives

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodia announced today that it is releasing 12 American soldiers captured in the past year, and the Viet Cong offered to free three U. S. troops it holds and possibly more.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was freeing 11 Vietnamese soldiers and a South Vietnamese captured last July when their river boat strayed into Cambodian waters and an American helicopter crewman captured last month.

A Viet Cong spokesman in Paris said the three soldiers it is offering to release are Thomas Nelson Jones, Donald L. Smith and James W. Brigham. He gave no home addresses or other information.

The Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh, which represents the U.S. government in Cambodia, said it expected that the 12 Americans being freed there would be flown by commercial airliner to Bangkok Friday.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands in Saigon announced, meanwhile, that American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all increased last week although no major sustained ground fighting reported. The U.S. Command also reported four sharp skirmishes Wednesday in which it said American forces killed 131 enemy troops.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was releasing his prisoners so they can spend Christmas with their families.

Sihanouk called another news conference two hours later to announce he had received a "cordial" message from President Johnson. He said the President told him the release of the prisoners would contribute to an improvement in relations between their two countries. Johnson also assured him of "the continuing friendship of the American people for Cambodia and its people," Sihanouk said.

In its weekly casualty report, the U.S. Command said 222 Americans were killed last week and 1,199 were wounded. This compared to 192 killed and 1,110 wounded in the previous week.

Pueblo Release Again Rumored

Procedures Said Only Obstacle

NEW YORK (AP) — A formula which might permit the early release of the 82 captive crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo appears to have been found in the secret talks between the United States and North Korea at Panmunjom, The New York Times said today.

The Seoul newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmoon reported that U.S. and North Korean representatives met at Panmunjom Thursday to discuss procedural matters in connection with the return of the Americans held by North Korea since last Jan. 23. Both the Times and the Seoul paper indicated that release of the Pueblo's crew was only a matter of time.

"A draft of a proposed public statement is believed to have been worked out by negotiators," the Times said. "This draft is understood now to have been referred back to the two governments for approval, along with an agreed timetable for the prisoners' release."

Officials in Washington maintained silence, but no official denial was issued as has been the case with similar reports earlier.

Eisenhower Rites Slated

The former president, who is convalescing at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington from his seventh heart attack, was "deeply grieved" by his younger brother's death.

The funeral will be held at Messinger Mortuary with burial at Greenwood Memorial Park.

He is survived by his widow; a son, Earl Jr.; a daughter, Mrs. Kay Morgan, Rockford, Ill.; and three brothers, the former president; Milton, a college president, and Edgar, a lawyer.

Minor Technical Snag Won't Delay Apollo 8 Voyage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The lengthy Apollo 8 countdown hit its first technical snag today, but it was a minor one and was not expected to affect Saturday's planned blastoff of three astronauts toward an orbit around the moon.

The problem cropped up as the launch crew prepared to pipe supercold liquid hydrogen into the three fuel cells that will produce electricity for Apollo 8. A valve in the pumping system did not respond and had to be replaced.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the problem delayed the fueling operation about four hours. He noted, however, that several aspects of the countdown, which started Sunday, were ahead of schedule and there was plenty of time to make up for time lost because of the faulty valve.

The spokesman said the launch team expected to catch up during a planned built-in hold of more than five hours, scheduled this afternoon before the so-called terminal countdown starts at 8:51 p.m. This is one of six such periods worked into the countdown to handle such contingencies.

During flight, the fuel cells combine liquid hydrogen, at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero, and liquid oxygen, at 297 below, to produce electricity and a byproduct of water for astronaut drinking.

The three astronauts who will fly the mission slowed their rugged training pace as Saturday's launch neared. They climbed into a spacecraft trainer in the morning and planned to huddle with launch officials in the afternoon.

The astronauts planned several meetings today with experts to discuss the flight procedures. "They'll be watching closely Friday when the terminal countdown begins. During this period, many vital operations will occur, including the pumping of tons of liquid hydrogen, liquid oxygen and kerosene into the mammoth fuel tanks of the 36-story-tall Saturn 5, the most powerful rocket ever built.

After the rocket hurls the three astronauts to the vicinity of the moon, they will act as explorers, geologists, photographers, physicists and navigators. And Lovell probably will have some fleeting thoughts of a family man as the spacecraft zips over a lunar mountain he has unofficially named "Mount Marilyn" for his wife.

"The reason for us going around the moon has been justified on the basis that this will teach us how to operate in this environment—how to communicate, how to track, how to determine the position of the spacecraft," said Anders, Apollo 8's systems expert and chief lunar photographer.

More film and photographic equipment than ever carried on a U.S. space flight will rocket moonward with Anders, Lovell and Borman.

Woman Sees Tot 1st Time In 5 Months

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Korean-born Hu Cha Sparks, her dark eyes glistening with happy tears, picked up her 5-month-old son Wednesday evening—for the first time. She says, "We've got our Christmas present."

Mrs. Sparks, 24, was separated from her son immediately after his birth on July 31 because she had tuberculosis.

Since then, she had seen Blair Lee Sparks only from afar, when her husband, Kirk, brought him within sight.

When doctors at National Jewish Hospital arrested the course of the illness and no longer considered her case infectious, they released Mrs. Sparks on a three-hour pass for the meeting with her son at their Lakewood home.

"What's the matter, don't you like your mama?" asked Mrs. Sparks in her new language, English, when the youngster seemed less than enthusiastic about being awakened from a nap for an important occasion he didn't quite understand.

Within five minutes, after hugs and kisses and bounces and pats, Mrs. Sparks was cooing at the infant and he was cooing back.

Sparks, who will receive a degree in political science in January from the University of Colorado, met his wife while he was stationed in Taegu, South Korea.

Man Kills Self After Slaying Wife, 3 Others; 4 Wounded

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A father of 10 children opened fire on a welfare agency Christmas party for his family Wednesday, police said, killing four persons including his estranged wife and wounding four of his children. He then fled, shot himself and died hours later.

Authorities said Sherman

Kline, 38, pulled out two pistols while gifts were being opened in the offices of the Illinois Department of Child and Family Services and began firing.

Killed were the wife, Lorraine, 33; two social workers, Frank Wildgrube, 24, and Bonnie Albracht, 23, both of Carlville; and a receptionist, Ann Keppler, 25, of Bend, Ill.

Two of the children, Michael, 14, and Diane, 8, were in critical condition in a Springfield hospital, while the other two wounded youngsters, Gene, 13 and Judy, 10, were in serious condition in a Carlville hospital.

After the shooting, Kline drove some 60 miles to the home of a brother near O'Fallon, Mo., where, the brother said, he admitted the shootings, but refused to give himself up.

Vernon Kline said his brother ran into some nearby woods, he heard a shot and called police. Officers found Sherman Kline with a bullet wound in his head. He died later at a hospital.

A spokesman for the welfare agency said he believed Kline was upset because he thought the agency had "come between himself and his family."

Miss Keppler, who was to have been married next March, was credited with saving the lives of two other secretaries in her office when she stepped between them and Kline as he fired into the office.

Kline, who separated from his wife in May, was reported to be a plumber for a St. Louis firm.

Nixon Statement Steadies Gold

LONDON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's backing of the official U.S. gold price of $35 an ounce steadied Europe's bullion and foreign exchange markets today.

The price of gold eased off Wednesday's six-month high in European markets, and the dollar strengthened in the foreign exchanges.

David Kennedy, who is to be Nixon's treasury secretary, refused at a news conference in Washington Tuesday to commit the new administration to defending the official price. His comments touched off speculation the price might rise.

But Nixon's chief spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, said no change was anticipated.

Intelsat Spacecraft Starts Long Voyage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The most powerful communications satellite ever launched whirled through a preliminary orbit today en route to a stationary outpost high above the Atlantic Ocean.

Once on position, Intelsat 3 will more than double transatlantic satellite telephone and television channels and will link stations in North and South America, Europe and Africa.

Mohawks On Warpath Against Canadians

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — All but three of 48 Mohawk Indians arrested after a two-hour uprising that blocked the international bridge linking the United States and Canada were released on bond early today.

A spokesman for the Cornwall City Jail said three persons remained in jail on charges stemming from the shouting, shoving demonstration Wednesday that blocked an international bridge for two hours in protest of Canada's failure to live up to the 1794 Jay Treaty.

Cornwall police said two shots from a hunting rifle slammed into the Canadian Customs House on the St. Regis Reservation, home of the protesting Mohawk Indians.

The Indians had fielded some 100 demonstrators for Wednesday's blockade.

The bridge was quiet early today.

Ernest Benedict, the craggy-faced, black-haired chief of the Indians, said there would be no repeat blockade.

"It is not the Indian way, to be arrested," Benedict said.

Canadian Police, unarmed, waded through a wall of angry Mohawks Wednesday and cleared away the 25 automobiles the Mohawks brought up to blockade the bridge.

There was no one hurt in the shots at the customs house. Cornwall police officers said they had no suspects.

A spokesman for the Cornwall jail said only three persons remained inside on charges stemming from the demonstration. The others were released shortly after midnight.

Benedict spoke to his tribesmen late Wednesday, making it clear that he was against further demonstrations against the Canadians, who drew the Indians' ire three weeks ago with the imposition of customs duties. The Mohawks, who live on both the Canadian and American sides of the bridge, contend the 1794 Jay Treaty guarantees them free passage.

The treaty guaranteed the Mohawks the right to travel unhindered between both countries.

The treaty was reaffirmed between the two countries in Ghent, Belgium, after the War of 1812. Canada, however, which did not become a nation until 1857, never ratified the document. Canadian law specifies that legislative action must be taken before a treaty has the force of law.

Some residents of the border area say the Indian discontent goes much deeper.

For example, says a minister who lives nearby, even though the Indians—who often inter-marry and have families on both sides of the border—frequently cross the bridge, they are still stopped, asked if they are immigrants and made to obtain a slip of paper with their status on it.

Benedict, in an open letter to the Canadian people and government, said, "We have become victims of a great error on the part of your government."

Benedict said his people were receiving support, both monetary and moral, from other Indian tribes in the United States and Canada.

Bail was set at $200 for most of those arrested.

South Vietnamese losses last week were put at 190 troops killed and 815 wounded compared to 150 dead and 811 wounded the week before.

Allied troops claimed they killed at least 2,059 enemy soldiers last week, compared with 1,715 reported last Thursday for the week before. Several sharp skirmishes were reported today in the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang and along the jungle infiltration corridors leading from the Cambodian border toward Saigon. The Viet Cong also intensified their shelling of allied bases and district towns and stepped up terror attacks in Saigon in an apparent salute to the eighth anniversary Friday of the founding of the NLF.

Flu May Curb Yule Travel Rush

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's roads, rails and skies are getting more crowded every day as Christmas approaches and thousands of Americans head for home or vacation spots. There are indications, however, that the outbreak of Hong Kong flu may ease travel congestion.

An Associated Press survey showed airlines, bus companies and railroads in most major cities expect record crowds during the Christmas season.

In several areas, however, spokesmen for travel companies said the passenger load has been spread out somewhat because of early school and college closings due to flu.

"We're all getting a break with the flu epidemic," said Virgin McKibben, assistant regional manager of Greyhound Bus Co. in Washington. McKibben said the flu is "scattering the travel over an extended period."

The injunction prevented the owner from renting any of the units.

He expects the congestion to get worse, however. "The day we're all dreading is the Sunday after New Year's when everybody is going to be returning at the same time," McKibben said. "Lord help us. It is going to be something out of this world."

In most cities, the question is not whether there will be record holiday crowds, but simply how high the records will be.

An Eastern Airlines spokesman in Philadelphia said the carrier expected a 60 per cent increase this year in travel to Florida and Puerto Rico. United Airlines said it has added 14 extra sections on flights from Philadelphia, expecting 33 per cent more passengers than usual.

Harry K. Malone, Jr., assistant manager of the Atlanta Airport, said he expected extreme congestion, but did not know whether the crowds would be worse than last year.

Malone said much of the crush was due to military personnel from nearby Fort Benning and other installations.

The air traffic controllers—who staged a "follow-the-book" campaign and snarled travel last summer—apparently do not plan to resume their slowdown.

A spokesman for the Air Transport Association said in Chicago that airlines in the Windy City expect no unforeseen delays providing the weather is good. Dan Vucurevich, the tower chief at O'Hare International Airport, said he would have an "adequate" staff on hand to handle peak traffic, even though several controllers have the flu.

Heart Patient Doing Well In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Wylie H. Julliard joked about his transplant operation with nurses at Cleveland Clinic Hospital and sat up in a chair for about 30 minutes Wednesday.

The 22-year-old Babylon, N.Y. man was reported in fair condition Wednesday night as he passed the 48-hour most critical period following the operation.

He received a new heart in a 2½-hour operation Monday night. The donor was Marc Seelenfreund, 21, of Fairlawn, N.J., who died of head injuries suffered in a fall from an Ohio Turnpike bridge following a minor traffic accident.

Julliard's mother, Mrs. Alfred Capolino of Babylon, said her son has responded "beautifully" to the operation.

"He is almost his old cheerful, bright self again," she said. Julliard entered Cleveland Clinic Dec. 10 suffering from congenital heart disease.

It also works more smoothly and with greater intensity than the original presentation two seasons back in Minneapolis, with all of the same leading performers.

Tyrone Guthrie, the ebullient founding Olympian who helped create the company in 1963, has directed with all his customary zeal and cheeky indifference to tradition.

So the story which Aeschylus told in the "Oresteia" of regicide, vengeance and ultimate salvation through the creation of law, comes off with costumed embellishment and some un-

Hellenic laughter.

The method suggests that Guthrie couldn't quite trust the narrative itself to hold the spectator.

Despite this limitation, the three-and-a-half hour pageant conveys the essential majesty and strange remoteness (to modern eyes and ears) of 2,500-year-old drama.

Much of its cumulative power derives from the awesome, larger-than-life costumes designed by Tanya Moiseiwitsch and the fearsome assortment of wrinkled, blind masks through which the actors speak their lines.

Conforming to olden usage, all the principal roles are enacted by men. Douglas Campbell mimes or bellows as occasion requires in impersonations of Clytemnestra and the goddess Athena who establishes legal order in the life of mankind.

Lee Richardson doubles as a potent Agamemnon and mildly droll Apollo, while Robin Gammell less successfully appears as both Cassandra and Electra. Len Cariou makes a rather mundane Orestes, and Robert Pastene complete the major panel with some short scenes of the usurper. A chorus behaves with liturgical versatility.

On Sunday, the company presents Brecht's "Arturo Ui," which will alternate with "The House of Atreus" in the rest of the run through Jan. 11. Then the troupe treks to Los Angeles for the other half of this tour that has been facilitated by grants from the Billy Rose Foundation and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Unsolved Problem

Alcoholism is one of the most serious health problems facing the world. No single ailment, not even the common cold, is responsible for more lost working hours. As a cause of divorce, it ranks high.

It is the cause of many fatal illnesses, and no statistics are available on how many people commit suicide because of it.

In the continuing war against alcoholism, some important gains have been made. For instance, the alcoholic is now generally recognized as a sick man by intelligent people. Eventually the law itself may no longer be an ass regarding the alcoholic.

It may treat him as a sick man and put him in a hospital or a home for alcoholics.

Dr. Charles Aharon, a leading Ontario psychologist, says it is an "old wives' tale" that an alcoholic cannot be cured until he voluntarily admits that he is an alcoholic. Often a man has ruined his life before he has the courage to face his problem squarely.

It is therefore the duty of relatives, or others who have learned to respect his good qualities, to help him face the hard facts before it is too late for him to make a recovery.

According To Boyle

By JOY STILLEX (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — At this season I begin to look with interest upon the displays of beautiful new candles in the stores. I have been possibly the world's most enthusiastic purchaser of commercially made candles—ever since the year we made our own.

We had read in a magazine a bubbly account of how simple it was to produce individual styles "with materials readily available" and what satisfaction it would give you. The writer can have her satisfaction—I'll take the ready-made candles.

At the time the kids were all for the idea and my husband and I decided it would be a delightfully creative project. It was a creative project, all right. What it created was chaos.

As per instruction, we gathered together bars of paraffin, all of the old broken crayons around the house, pieces of string, milk cartons and assorted glasses and bowls.

Then the fun started. We melted the paraffin in various pots and pans, coloring each one a different shade. Then we poured them into the molds. The hot wax broke one of my favorite glass dishes and flowed over the table and across the kitchen in all directions. The floor needed waxing, it's true, but not that way.

After the rest of the molten material had achieved its final resting place, it was time to insert the strings for wicks. They weren't averse to going into the messy mixture, but they were very much against staying in place and tended to fall down on the job, rather than remain upright.

The milk cartons, when peeled away from their cooled contents, were supposed to reveal a chunky candle of dazzling smoothness. What they did reveal was a flaky tower of unevenly colored wax that still had bits of cardboard clinging to it.

But the piece of resistance was to have been our special design—a candle of mixed colors. We had put our hearts—and our best crayons—into its creation.

To produce a stunning effect, we had swirled into the paraffin red, green and blue additions. Somebody gave it one swirl too many and the whole thing turned a pasty gray—indeed a stunning effect.

Despite the energetic use of detergent, steel wool and other assorted scrubbing techniques it was impossible to get all the wax out of the utensils used for melting it, so a new set of pans went on my Christmas list.

But at least nobody could accuse us that holiday season of burning our candle at both ends. They wouldn't burn at all.

Laff-A-Day.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, never a man to waste words, hit one whistle stop while campaigning for election where the total population was about three hundred. He sized up his audience at a glance and retreated precipitately to his private compartment. "This crowd," he explained tersely, "is too big for an anecdote and too small for an oration."

The late Dusty Boggess, colorful National League umpire for eighteen years, once got so on the nerves of the rabid rooters of the old Brooklyn Dodgers that they brought rotten eggs and vegetables to Ebbets Field just to throw at him. One enterprising huckster cashed in on their bitter vendetta. He sold packages of rotting tomatoes and bananas, plus grapefruit rinds for fifty cents a package at the main entrance to the field, calling his choice concoctions "Umpire Fruit." The cops finally put an end to his racket—and he drove off into the gloaming in his new Cadillac.

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Do you read "Rat" or the "East Village Other" or some other manifestation of the "subterranean news" of the New Left? If you do, you will be amused for one issue, on the fence after plowing through a couple, and bored to death the third or fourth time around.

The reason is that the "revolution" bogs down into an endless iteration of the word "pig." It was funny when the Yippies brought a live flesh-and-blood pig to Chicago to run him for President, and when the animal was arrested by Mayor Daley's police (the charge, according to the Yippies, was "impersonating an officer") it seemed for the moment that the cops—or "pigs"—had gone all too solemn. One wondered where the police had parked their sense of humor.

But now the pig joke wears thin. Every page of the New Leftist "Rat" works the porcine allusion to a frazzle. There is a reference to a "pig raid in Dallas." There is a quote from Bobby Seale about "an Uncle Tom, a bootlicker, a nigger pig." There is a news item about "pigs busting a cat on Seventh Street." There is an adjuration to "help stamp out hoof-and-mouth pig diseases. Help stamp out pigs." There is something about "an anti-pig militia," and in an account of the uproar at San Francisco State College there is a description of whites finding the "unaccustomed" (sic!) word "pig" forming in their mouths.

Finally, there is a fanciful account of the election called "Pig Victory," in which Mr. J. Pigasus Pig, Pig International Party Candidate for President, tells the "Rat" reporter that plans for the "inhoguration" on January 20 are in the works, and that "Lady Sow Pig will be there and all the little piglets." When J. Pigasus Pig says he intends to make Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis his personal ambassador to the

Vatic, the crowd shouts, "Pig Heil! Pig Heil! Pig Heil!"

Chicago, to the editors of the "Rat", is, of course, Pig City. The only word used more frequently than "pig" on the New Left is a four-letter action verb that no clean-mouthed pig would ever use.

The trouble with the New Left is that its art forms become infinitely wearying, which is something that you can't afford to be if you want to keep a revolution going. We want some genius around here. I have just read a study by two specialists in Slavic affairs and literature, Sergius Yakobson and Robert V. Allen of the Library of Congress, called "Aspects of Intellectual Ferment and Dissent in the Soviet Union," and am amazed at the rich variety of the works which Brezhnev and Kosygin are futilely attempting to suppress.

This study was undertaken at the behest of Senator Tom Dodd of Connecticut, who has the idea that the Russian literary underground is very much for real and will not be shut up.

The works of Solzhenitsyn (known here for his concentration camp story, "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich"), of the young poet Evushenko and Voznesenski, and others too numerous to mention, pass from hand to hand in laboriously written longhand copies and are read at the so-called "Samizdats," or private recitations of what the Soviet Establishment refuses to print. There is beautiful and telling phraseology in the Russian literature of protest; it is the Establishment that uses all the old threadbare, poverty-touched Marxist phrases such as "tool of the West," "traitor," "enemy of the people," and "rabid white guards."

The young dissenters in the U.S., in contrast to the young anti-establishment Russians, think it enough to repeat an endless joke about pigs. Their idea of a three-act drama is to shout, "Up against the wall." Their notion of a caricature is to print a picture of Dick Nixon wearing a five-pointed star badge reading "Top Pig."

Genius can't be had on order. But surely there is enough revolutionary talent around to think up something better than "pig, pig, pig, pig, pig, pig, pig."

Well, as Karl Marx said, history repeats itself on the plane of farce. Claude McKay, a Negro revolutionary poet of fifty years ago, once wrote an impassioned sonnet that began, "If we must die, let it not be like hogs—hunted and penned in this inglorious spot." The pig image was fresh as McKay used it; when I read him I think of a sadly noble animal. And the pigs in George Orwell's "Animal Farm" were figures of splendid satire. But now everybody who is hip is referring to everybody who is square as a pig, and we suffer endlessly from the Day of the Wild Bore.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to wish a Very Merry Christmas to the person or persons that either borrowed or stole the Christmas lights from our front porch Tuesday night.

MR. and MRS. PAUL WOLTZ
1390 Pinckney St.
Circleville, Ohio

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter in hopes that someone will read it and understand my hopes and wishes.

I'm an American soldier stationed in Korea. Today I went to an orphanage to donate clothes for needy children. While I was there, I noticed children who had no shoes, or socks, few coats, and practically nothing to wear. In this one orphanage alone, there are some 160 children, who don't even have enough to eat.

They have one little stove between them all. I was hoping that by writing this letter that some kindhearted people will realize the needs of these children.

If any of you have any love for children, please help in any way possible! These children have never known what it is to go to sleep with a full stomach or plenty of warmth. The needs of these children are very great. All of your help will be appreciated. God will bless you for your help.

If anyone who cares to donate clothing, money, or etc. Please send it to Sgt. Timothy Bellamy, 166 T.F.S. Box 2028, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96264. Thank You Very Much.

an agency or becoming a partner in an existing one," he said in an interview. "Certain propositions are before me."

Lytton said he expects to announce a decision early next year. The matter at present might be complicated by the upcoming mayoral race, for Lytton has been mentioned often as a potential candidate for the office.

"I have no present intentions to run," said the founder and until April chairman of Lytton Financial Corp. But he added deliberately: "The filing date is not over and it won't be until January."

Los Angeles will be his base for any advertising venture, he said, "unless I tied in with an Eastern firm and agree to be a partner managing the Western section."

The personable magnate, whose friendships range widely, believes he'll have entry to financial enterprises because of the advertising and merchandising success of his savings and loan association, into which poured as much as $5 million to $7 million a day.

"I have quite a respect in my capacities as a financier, so I think I'll be able to pick and choose my accounts," he said.

"Our merchandising was the most effective in the bankingsavings and loan field."

Lytton handled much of his own advertising, which he personalized with his photograph in newspaper ads and his voice on radio commercials.

Early this year a slowdown in the home loan business finally caught Lytton with more bills than he could handle and he stepped down under pressure. The company is now being reorganized.

Sitting in his air-conditioned limousine as it was chauffeured through Hollywood, he stared at the impressive facade of the company he founded.

"Two months more and I'd still be there," he said. "I made a decision to turn the place over to the creditors. If I were stubborn for two more months I'd still be there."

The 55-year-old Lytton has agreed not to compete in the savings and loan field for seven years. His "Chairman of the Board" sign adorns the bar in his apartment, which he moved into two months ago after selling his Holmby Hills mansion.

The apartment, an art-filled penthouse in the tallest building in Westwood Hills, overlooks the University of California campus and the Los Angeles Country Club. But it is a big step down, for Lytton is now worth less than a million dollars.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

During three of my pregnancies I was distressed not by morning sickness, but by severe stuffiness of the nose. This was so unbearable that I began to use nose drops and then found that I could not do without them. The pleasure of my entire pregnancy was ruined and, I must confess, will be the major reason we are not having another child. Can you explain this and suggest how it can be avoided?

Mrs. N. T., Va.
Dear Mrs. T.: I assume that you want to know how to avoid nasal congestion rather than pregnancy. On that basis, I will proceed to tell you that congestion of the nose does occur for some strange reason during pregnancy. It is remarkable how frequently it happens about the third month even if people have no known allergies. It is referred to as the naso-genital relationship. At first, any association between the two sounds preposterous, but it isn't.

Stuffiness of the nose, sneezing, and even bleeding from the nose are burdensome symptoms not unlike the sudden episode of hay fever. In many cases of pregnancy, this can last right up until the time the baby is delivered.

There are a number of ways that physicians can treat this condition, which is thought to be due to a temporary hormone imbalance associated with pregnancy. Antihistamine drugs and other medication should, of course, be taken by pregnant women only when specifically prescribed by a doctor.

You have fallen into a habit of using constricting drugs in the nose which bring you temporary relief. Dependence on them grows rapidly and before long more and more drops are being used with less and less relief.

This is a true addiction that causes the delicate lining of the nose to rebound with swelling from overuse of these drugs. My favorite remedy is to use half strength Dobell's solution as a spray in the nose. This does not give as much air space in the nose, but it prevents the distressing rebound. Even such a benign solution should never be used by anyone, especially during pregnancy, without the specific direction of the doctor.

I recently read that a child became deathly ill from eating paint off the walls. My child sometimes does this by picking enamel off his crib. What makes them do it? Is it dangerous?

Mrs. A. I., Arkansas
Dear Mrs. I.: Pica is a peculiar craving to eat things that are normally not considered to be food. I have known many children who eat ashes, and even clay. We have all known women who, during pregnancy, develop an uncontrollable craving for food that is hard to get, such as Morel mushrooms in the dead of winter.

There have been many explanations for this perversion of appetite. None of them seems to have any great validity. Yes, it can be dangerous if the child eats paint that contains a large amount of lead. If this persists, intestinal symptoms and lead poisoning or plumbism can occur. Adults, too, can acquire this if they inhale large quantities of lead fumes either as housepainters or as industrial workers, like lead smelters.

Most points used on children's cribs are now completely free of lead, or should be, to avoid the dangerous consequences of lead poisoning. Your child can and should be trained to stop eating paint even if it is of the safe variety.

Chilling of the body and excessive fatigue undoubtedly lower resistance to colds and infections.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Five Cleveland banks — Cleveland Trust Co., Central National, National City, Union Commerce and Society National — have announced an increase in their prime interest rate from 6½ per cent to 6¾ per cent, effective today. The increase followed an announcement Tuesday that the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 5¼ per cent to 5½ per cent.

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next month "Peyton Place" cuts back to one chapter a week on television. At the end of the season, the long-run serial will shuffle off the network, leaving a number of plots still tangled.

As it must to all TV series, "Peyton Place" will soon be breathing its last, consigned to daytime programming by anemic ratings. Paul Monash, the man who conceived the series and saw it through the five years and 500-plus episodes, has this feeling about the end:

"It's like watching an old friend die. You know it's a terminal disease, and that makes your friendship more precious than ever. But you keep your emotional distance in order to prepare yourself for the loss."

He has no regrets. After all, "Peyton Place" has had a good, long ride on ABC. The viewing public took immediately to the innovation of a continuing story on two nights a week. The success was such that the network added a third night, which seemed to some critics as being a bit greedy.

The third chapter was later dropped, and now the second one. Monash complained about how that was done: "ABC kept us on Monday opposite 'Laugh-In' instead of Wednesday, where we were doing pretty well. That seems to be a sign that the network is abandoning the show, except in skeletal form. No show can hope to do well opposite 'Laugh-In.'"

Can "Peyton Place" be saved? "The only thing that can do it is an avalanche of mail," said the executive producer. Switching the metaphor, he reported, "so far there has been a current, but not a flood."

He added his own diagnosis of the show's ills: "Peyton Place" suffered from a virus that is bound to infect this kind of show. The longer it goes on, the more complicated the plot becomes. After we had done 250 shows, the viewer who tuned in and tried to follow the plot was apt to be fairly well confused.

"I have seen no survey on this, but I suspect that the bulk of our viewers have been watching the show since its beginnings. The others drifted away, and not enough new fans have been added."

"It's the fault of the form. Actually our shows this season have never been better; they're more vital, alive and contemporary. But we've succumbed to the erosion of five years of being on the air."

Dialogue Replaces Catholic Mass

By ED GROSSWILER
Associated Press Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Roman Catholic churchgoer, long a silent participant in the Sunday Mass, gets an opportunity to express his views at a parish in northeast Portland.

In an experiment designed to involve the layman more fully in the Mass, the traditional sermon has been replaced by dialogue during the noon Mass at All Saints church, one of the city's largest parishes.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Tobin, pastor of All Saints, says that attendance at the noon Mass in the first two months of the experiment has increased impressively.

More importantly, he says, the dialogue has brought back Catholics who had discontinued regular weekly attendance at Mass. It also has attracted many non-Catholics.

"There are two persons taking convert classes right now" as a result of the dialogue, Msgr. Tobin said.

The dialogue opens with a brief introduction of the topic by the moderator, who is one of the four priests in the parish.

The moderator comes down from the altar with a microphone and when a parishioner volunteers a comment, the moderator passes the microphone to him. The other priests also take part in the dialogue as part of the audience.

Topics have ranged from "The Obligations of Voting" to "What is Real Prayer." One week the dialogue centered on the problem of getting more people involved in the dialogue. It was decided at that session to publish the topic of each Sunday's dialogue in the parish bulletin the previous week.

The topic usually is selected from parishioners' suggestions. In contrast to many Catholic parishes where the priests celebrate Mass, then quickly return to the rectory on Sunday, the parishioners of All Saints have ample opportunity to see the four priests on Sunday.

day Mass to a big sale at a department store where all the salesmen are on duty. "The people get to church once a week and the priests should be available to talk with them."

Thus at noon Mass, Msgr. Tobin and his priests take part in the dialogue and afterwards talk to those who were reticent to speak during the Mass. They are usually swamped.

The dialogue also provokes discussion among families as they leave church and later at home.

"The response has been quite good so far," Msgr. Tobin says. He expects other parishes to introduce the dialogue at some Masses.

He doesn't know if the dialogue will replace the sermon at all Masses because of the time problem.

NEW YORK (AP) — A new daytime serial will be born Dec. 30 on NBC, and its creator will be hurt and a little angry if "Hidden Faces" is kissed off as just another soap opera.

"It is an adventure-mystery serial in which we develop characters," insisted author Irving Vendig. "We'll show the action — our characters won't sit around drinking coffee and talking about something that happened off-camera."

The serial has been planned deliberately for a long life. Vendig created "Edge of Night" as an adventure-mystery serial and wrote its scripts for nine years before he moved along to other things, and the serial is still on the air. He turned out more than 2,200 scripts for "Perry Mason" in its radio days and recalls it went on for 15 years — and was followed by the Raymond Burr TV series for another nine.

Vendig made a master plan for "Hidden Faces" that carefully puts his principal characters in positions surrounded by drama. His male lead, for example, is a state senator victimized by a blackmail plot.

Vendig does not expect the series will receive immediate acceptance.

"Getting these daytime things going takes time," he said. "It usually takes a year, and even longer, because daytime viewers are more creatures of habit than nighttime viewers, even if they are the same people. I do, however, think it is wrong to treat the daytime audience as if it consisted only of housewives. I believe that about one quarter of that potential audience is men — men who work at home, night workers, garage men, doctors and others."

Vendig started turning out broadcast material in Chicago during its golden radio days. While he has been associated with some big, long-running shows, he also has experienced disaster, most recently with a short-lived daytime serial called "Paradise Bay" a few seasons back.

"It was one of the worst concepts for a serial," he admitted frankly. "I knew it couldn't work the minute I saw the first show and I wanted to kill it then and there. But the network was committed to 26 weeks, so we staggered on to the end."

It takes time and patience to get a new serial on the air. NBC received Vendig's original concept in March 1966, and four months later was given five sample scripts.

"They liked it, had no room, and let a year go by without anything happening," Vendig said.

At that point he found an interested sponsor and almost immediately the project suddenly came to life again.

Recommended tonight "The Little Drummer Boy," NBC, 7:30-8 EST, animated musical Christmas show for children; "The Andy Williams Show," NBC, 8-9, special Christmas show with the Williams clan and the Osmund brothers.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Taken For Ride By This Year's Model

DEAR ABBY: I am a 47-year-old eligible man who is very much interested in a beautiful 26-year-old model. She has two children and her divorce (for which I am paying) is now pending.

I bought her a new car and have spent over $2,000 on clothes for her and her children in the last 6 months. She says she will marry me when her divorce is final, but in the meantime, I don't see much of her.

She sees me every Monday night, but on Tuesdays she sees an old boyfriend she says she is letting down easy. On Wednesdays she has to go out with her boss. On Thursday she goes out with the girls. On Friday she stays home and does her laundry, and the week-ends she lets her husband come over (against the orders of his lawyer) because he misses the kids.

My friends say I am being taken for a ride. Am I?

LAKE FOREST
DEAR LAKE: Not only are you being taken for a ride, you'll be lucky if you aren't killed in the traffic.

DEAR ABBY: I have an uncle who is getting on in years. He has made a lot of money during his lifetime and has spent very little of it.

He's a self-made man and never finished grammar school, so we know he's not got any college to leave his money to. Also, he's not a church-type, so they aren't getting any.

What I am getting at is this: I know he has a will because he mentions from time to time that he has "changed" it. I don't want to ask any questions of him or the lawyer, but how can I find out how much he will leave when he goes?

RELATIVE
DEAR RELATIVE: I can tell you. He will leave it ALL.

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law (I'll call him "Papa Joe") has been making his home with us ever since my mother-in-law died 2 years ago.

I am by nature the affectionate type and think nothing of kissing relatives hello and goodbye. Yesterday when I came home from marketing I gave Papa Joe a little peck on the cheek like always. He grabbed me and said he didn't want THAT kind of kiss. Well, this floored me because he is 65 and I am 27. I told him that it was the only kind of kiss he was going to get from me, then he tried to force me to kiss him on the lips. I was petrified. Fortunately, he heard my husband's car pull into the carport, so he let me go.

Abby, my father-in-law is retired and is home a lot, and now I don't want to be alone in the house with him. He begged me not to tell his son, but I feel uncomfortable around the old man now I wish he would move. But what excuse can I give my husband? Should I tell him the truth? Papa Joe could afford to live alone if he wanted to, and he has other children he could live with. Please advise me soon.

FRIGHTENED
DEAR FRIGHTENED: Tell Papa Joe that he has one week to tell his son that he is moving out, and if he doesn't, you will be forced to tell him that you no longer want his father living there. And, why.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL LOOKING IN THE HILLS OF BEVERLY": I agree, a man should be particular, but looking for a long time doesn't necessarily insure the best choice. Many a butterfly flits over all the flowers, only to land on a weed.

Casual Acquaintanceship Nets Ex-Actress Big Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Unfortunately," says former actress Dolores Moran, "for the life of me I can't remember the man."

She was talking of Anthony Ponce, a 58-year-old bachelor recluse who left her most of his $250,000 to $300,000 estate.

Miss Moran, now 41, apparently met him when she was a 15-year-old carhop in Sunnyvale, Calif.

Joseph DeGioia, attorney for the will's executor, suggested Ponce may never have realized how much he was leaving Miss Moran. The will was drawn up in 1947. It left $6,000 to five "all the rest of my real and personal property to Dolores Moran of Hollywood, Calif., formerly employed by Warner Brothers."

The other property included a 10-acre apricot grove that was worth perhaps $1,000 in 1941, when Ponce is believed to have met Miss Moran. Since then, the property has become surrounded by exclusive Sunnyvale housing developments. Attorneys estimate its value now from $250,000 to perhaps $300,000.

The nieces and nephew, all married and of modest incomes, say they plan to contest the will, filed for probate Monday.

Ponce lived in a modest house on the grove. Few in Sunnyvale, which is in northern California,

U.S. Steel Hikes Several Prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., which usually sets the nation's steel price trends, says it will hike the cost of the industry's basic product early next month.

The 4 per cent increase, which will boost the price of semfinished carbon steel $5 a ton and semfinished alloy steel $7 a ton, is the largest in a series of adjustments in the industry.

In addition to semfinished steel, the giant producer said Wednesday it's raising the price of steel pilings $7 a ton.

Semfinished steel is sold to mills in rough forms called billets, blooms and slabs. The mills then roll these into virtually all steel products, rods, wires, sheets and strips.

Complex Damage Case Continues on River Mishap

CINCINNATI (AP)—The federal government will probably take over ownership of certain rivercraft in a move to protect parties seeking $1 million in damages from a barge collision against Markland Dam.

U. S. District Court Judge Timothy S. Hogan ordered the ownership transfer Wednesday of a tow boat, valued at $1 million by its owner, and six barges surviving the collision in May of 1967.

Failure to complete the transfer by Jan. 18 would "open the door" for claimants, Hogan said.

The judge made his ruling in a 23-page memorandum on a petition by Midland Enterprises, Inc., owner of the two barges that rammed into the dam, and the Ohio River Co., charterer of the rivercraft. The two concerns are seeking exoneration or limited liability in the case.

Ohio Senate Demo Leader's Post Kept In Labor's Hands

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The leadership of Ohio Senate Democrats passed Wednesday from the president of the Ohio AFL-CIO to the regional representative of the United Steelworkers.

Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King nominated Sen. Charles J. Carney of Youngstown to be his successor. Carney's election was unanimous.

King, who plans to leave the Senate early next year to devote full time to his union job, said he would express his preference of successor for his Senate seat "at the right time."

He said he might have stayed on as minority leader if he could not have chosen his successor as Democratic Senate boss. King had served in the leadership post for 10 years.

Carney said he did not know whether he would resign his labor post or not. King noted the question of labor's firm control over Senate Democrats "has been talked about for many years . . . who dominates who."

Carney appointed Anthony O. Calabrese of Cleveland as assistant minority leader and Anthony F. Novak of Cleveland as minority whip. He also created a new post of assistant minority whip and named Oliver Ocsek of Northfield to fill it.

Carney said the Democrats invited Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray of Piqua into their caucus. He said the 12 Democrats would not pull any "sneakers" on Republicans and Gray promised in return that the 21 Senate Republicans would pull no "sneakers" on the Democrats.

Carney added, "Gray will give us comparable staffing to the majority party, which was more than we expected."

Santa Claus Goes Modern With Plane

NORTH POLE, Alaska (AP)—The mechanical revolution has finally caught up with Santa Claus—he's got an airplane now.

But Con Miller, 56, who doubles as Santa Claus during the Christmas season, said he'll still keep the reindeer team.

Miller said he's presently snowed under with Christmas mail that has been sent to this small town of 600 persons 14 miles southeast of Fairbanks, where he serves as mayor and postmaster.

But, as soon as the holiday season is over he intends to resume using a $14,000 plane he won in a recent contest.

"Once I get my license, I'll be able to get around a little faster," he said.

Miller estimates that when Christmas Day arrives he and Mrs. Miller and their 7-year-old daughter, Merry Christmas, will have processed about 700,000 letters.

"We are getting heavy mail this year from places like Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Scotland. I had a letter from Kenya and we have had several from East Germany," he said.

There's also been mail from GI's in Vietnam. Many fathers in uniform write Santa here and ask him to re-mail their letters home with the North Pole postmark, he said.

Santa's family is now deeply involved in politics.

Miller's son Terry, 25, became the youngest man ever elected to the Alaska state Senate, last month. The elder Miller serves on the state board of paroles.

Czech Crisis May Force Change In Soviet Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. experts say the Czech experience will strengthen the position of Kremlin dissidents who favor reducing the role of the Warsaw Pact nations in Central Europe.

Until the move toward political liberalism by the Prague government and the resulting Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, the prevailing policy in Moscow was to place a great deal of reliance on Warsaw Pact armies in the upkeep of the Soviet defense in Central Europe.

However, the diviation of the Czech government has put in a better position those Soviet leaders who have argued since the early 1960s against depending on Eastern European allies in defending that part of the world, the U.S. experts say.

"If the Czechs have gone sour so could others," one American expert said.

If Moscow does decide to strengthen its military posture in Central Europe, it will force an increase in the Soviet defense budget, one U.S. Kremlinologist said.

This might drain money from other Russian military programs and such civilian sectors as agriculture where the Soviet government has long promised improvements.

The Kremlinologists say any such policy shift would eventually show up in the Russian "order of battle" in Central Europe and might be signaled by changes in the level of factory output.

The Czech invasion already is believed to have placed some strain on the Soviet military budget because it required the Russians to mobilize some reservists and undertake unexpected major troop movements.

Grand Jury Indicts 2 In Drug Probe

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—The Lorain County Grand Jury has indicted two Oberlin College students on one count each of selling marijuana. The students were arrested Oct. 16 by Oberlin city and campus police.

Indicted Wednesday were Groesbeck P. Parham, 20, Fairfield, Ala., and Avery F. Brooks, also 20, Gary, Ind.

8 Policemen Are Indicted In Conspiracy

Charges Stem From Action During Rioting

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Eight policemen have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate and violation of civil rights of Negro residents during racial disorders last summer.

The indictment said the policemen assaulted one Negro, and broke windows of several business establishments operated by Negroes.

U.S. Atty. David Satz Jr. of New Jersey said the policemen were charged with violating a 1972 Civil Rights Act, the first such indictments against policemen brought in the state.

"Enough people came forward immediately with enough evidence to warrant presentation to the grand jury," Satz said.

A coalition of civil rights groups charged that the police department "rioted against the citizens, uncontrolled by their own authorities," while suppressing the disorders.

Paterson, which has a population of 150,000 of which about 40,000 are Puerto Ricans and 20,000 Negroes, was hit by sporadic disorders early in July.

The civil rights coalition claimed that at one point during the disturbances that included firebombing and rock throwing by bands of Puerto Ricans, police attacks against Spanish-speaking citizens were so intense that "some of the innocent and frightened victims telephoned the governor of Puerto Rico for rescue."

The Civil Rights Act the policemen are accused of violating forbids "depriving of any rights, privileges or immunities secured by or protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States" to any citizen because of his race or color.

A spokesman for the U.S. attorney's office said the policemen will not be arrested but will receive notices of the indictment. He said the arraignment has been scheduled for Jan. 3.

The maximum penalty for each count of the six-count indictment is one year in prison and a $1,000 fine. Not all the policemen are mentioned in every count.

Ohio Supreme Court Hands Down Rulings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused Wednesday to vacate the 1953 suspension of former Youngstown Mayor Frank R. Franko from the practice of law.

The court, acting on a recommendation of its Board of Commissioners on Grievances and Discipline, had imposed the sentence following a complaint by the Mahoning County Bar Association that Franko showed favoritism in traffic cases while serving as a municipal judge.

The high court also rejected an appeal by former Port Clinton safety service director Edward N. Simmans, who was convicted of obtaining property by false pretenses.

Simmans was found guilty in Lucas County Common Pleas Court last January on the charges that he allegedly presented false vouchers for payment of services performed for Port Clinton in 1964.

The Supreme Court also turned down an appeal by Morrow County lawyer Paul D. Drake, convicted in common pleas court last summer of receiving stolen property in 1964.

Drake was charged with engaging in a speculative scheme during an oil boom in Morrow County by using geographical seismic maps of Cardington Township that were taken from an oil company.

The court agreed to hear an appeal by three persons against the city of Mansfield. The three sued the city, charging that a malfunction in a traffic control device at a Mansfield intersection caused a fatal accident at the intersection.

The suit by Dennis L. LeJeune and Robert A. Dickey of Fremont and Mary E. Frankhauser of Mansfield was dismissed by common pleas court. Mrs. Frankhauser's husband, Alvin, was killed in the 1964 crash and LeJeune and Dickey, in the other car, were severely injured.

Not quite as handsome.

Not quite as strong.

Not quite as economical.

Chevrolet is more pickup. Period. And that's for any purpose, work or play. Take Chevy styling, for instance. It looks just as good, just as modern, whether you see it at a campsite or a construction site.

It's the same with Chevy pickup construction. Features like double-wall steel in vital areas, special rust inhibitors, full coil spring ride and tough 6-cylinder or V8 power pay off for you whether you're carrying payloads or payloads.

Because Chevrolet is more pickup . . . more pickups are Chevrolets! It's as simple as that. (And, also, because no truck costs less to own and operate.) So what are you looking for? Tough truck? Camper? Second car? Combination of all three? So come on in and save some money!

Christmas Rites Vary Around World, But Still Strong

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stiltwalkers will parade in Nigeria. Chinese businessmen will play mah jongg and feast on snakes and dog meat in Hong Kong. And while American children receive flashy space age playthings, boys in the Congo jungles will make their own toys from wire.

Christmas knows no national boundaries, no government doctrines. It will be celebrated as a national and religious holiday in most lands, as a commercial holiday in others, and at private family gatherings in the Soviet Union where atheism is law.

Observance of Christmas in the Soviet Union is not forbidden outright. Russians who do observe it will celebrate on Jan. 7, the Russian Orthodox date, rather than Dec. 25.

Although tradition is still strong in many countries, once-alien Christmas customs have jet-setted around the world. Santa Claus, while still considered a "gringo" in Mexico, is now tough competition for the Three Kings, the dominant Christmas symbol south of the border.

St. Nick, the Christmas tree and roast stuffed turkey are steadily replacing the traditional Precipios-manger scenes in Italy. Other countries which once had annual gift-giving rites on New Year's Day, like Japan and the Congo, are adopting Dec. 25.

In the cold northern lands, Christmas is usually a family affair. In Austria and Germany families gather on Christmas Eve to sing carols, feast on roast goose and home-baked delicacies and wait for the Christ-kind-Christ Child—to deposit presents in a locked room. The tinkle of a little bell signals anxious children that the goodies have arrived.

Scandinavia has a long, elaborate Christmas with all the traditional trimmings, trees, lights, decorations and groaning tables. Sweden's celebration does not end until the day after Twelfth Night, well into January.

A new wrinkle in Norway this year is a campaign of the Association of Christian Students denouncing the "near glutony" of their countrymen at Christmas. Norwegians are noted trenchermen and the outcome of the students' campaign is doubtful.

Santa and the Hippies
By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Ding Dong goes to the Purple Witch but he cannot see her. She is dying for lack of something to read.

CHAPTER 15
HIPPIE POEMS

ALL the time the Purple Witch was dying Ding Dong stood outside her door hoping that somewhere a book would be found that would make her well so that he could ask for the purple thread.

The Purple Witch Doctor came out of the bedroom looking very solemn indeed.

"She is eating her book mark," he announced. "Soon all will be over."

"The book mark!" cried Ding Dong aghast. "But—that's the purple thread!"

"Yes. It is her most valued possession because it reminds her of all she's read."

"But she can't eat it!" "She doesn't want to leave it behind. When she has finished it, she will die."

"I won't let her," shouted Ding Dong. He brushed past the astonished doctor and burst into the Purple Witch's room.

She was sitting by the window chewing on the purple thread. She looked sadly up at Ding Dong but she couldn't really see him because she didn't have on even one of her five pairs of glasses. She thought he was the Witch Doctor and she murmured sorrowfully, "Oh, doctor. It is so sad. If I had just one new thing to read I would recover for I'd be refreshed enough to go through my whole library again."

"I have something you've never read!" cried Ding Dong, digging frantically into his paper bag. "Listen!" He read one of the poems given him by the hippies of Hippieville.

"Up goes the elevator. 'Down goes the alligator.' The Purple Witch stopped nibbling on the purple thread. 'Fingers Freeze 'Parakeets sneeze,' read Ding Dong.

The Purple Witch got out of her chair and cocked her head, listening. "Fishes swim 'To keep in trim," went on Ding Dong.

The Purple Witch put on all her five pairs of glasses. "What is this? What are you reading?" "Poems by hippies. There are lots of them."

The Purple Witch snatched the bundle of poems from his hands and began to read. Her eyes grew bright and her cheeks rosy. "Something new at last!" she breathed. "What originality! What depth of feeling! How they go to the heart of the matter! How do they do it?"

"I bet you could do it, too," said Ding Dong hopefully. "If only I could! How refreshed I would be!" She thought and thought and finally she said slowly,

"When the north wind blows 'I like—I like—I like 'To wiggle my toes!' There!" exclaimed Ding Dong "You are a hippie poet."

"My dear boy," said the Purple Witch joyfully, "I am well again. How can I ever repay you?"

Ding Dong pointed to the purple thread still dangling from her fingers. Only an inch or so had been eaten. "Will you give me that?"

"My book mark! I cannot read without it!" she protested. Then she said, "But I won't need it anymore. From now on I shall write hippie poems and leave it to others to read."

Smiling shyly, she gave the thread to Ding Dong. Tomorrow: Popcorn Popper

"These are poems by hippies," said Ding Dong.

2 School Buses

Slide Off Roads

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two school buses overturned Wednesday in separate accidents near here. There were no serious injuries.

Both Greene County mishaps were caused by slippery roads, according to police. A Xenia school bus driven by Evelyn Bean, 31, overturned and landed in a ditch. No children were hurt although Mrs. Bean received slight injuries. The other bus was from nearby Beavercreek Township and skidded on another road.

2 Persons Killed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James Wilcox, 26, and Jessie Stafford, 26, were found dead in a garage on Lenacave Avenue Wednesday, both apparently killed by carbon monoxide fumes.

Columbia Gas Maps $33.6 Million Improvement Plans

Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., and its associate companies — Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and Ohio Valley Gas Co. — plan to invest $33.6 million for new pipelines and other facilities in Ohio during 1969, pushing the total construction expenditure by the three companies in the last 10 years to more than $3 billion.

Ohio Fuel, Columbia Gas of Ohio and Ohio Valley Gas, with headquarters in Columbus, all are part of the Columbia Gas System, Inc.

C. R. Baker, Circleville manager for the gas company, said $29 million will be used to build new pipelines, throughout the state.

Columbia Gas of Ohio and Ohio Valley Gas Co. plan to spend approximately $19 million on various pipeline projects to meet ever-increasing demands of more than 955,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers in Circleville and the more than 550 other communities served by the companies.

In the Circleville area alone, Columbia Gas of Ohio expects to invest about $35,000 in 1969, to continue to assure the best natural gas service possible to 4,505 existing customers and 100 new customers expected to be added in 1969.

Ohio Fuel has earmarked approximately $10 million to expand and improve its large diameter pipeline network, which supplies natural gas to Columbia Gas of Ohio and 26 other gas companies in the state.

Subject to the approval of the Federal Power Commission, major projects planned by Ohio Fuel in 1969 include:

(1) Construction of 30 miles of pipeline — 2 feet in diameter — in Montgomery and Green Counties to transport additional natural gas from the southwest to Columbia Gas of Ohio customers. Estimated cost $3.3 million.

(2) Construction of 16 miles of pipeline — 2½ feet in diameter — in Fairfield County to increase gas deliveries to northern Ohio communities. Estimated cost $3.3 million.

(3) Construction of eight miles of pipeline — almost 2 feet in diameter — in Sandusky County to deliver more natural gas to Toledo and other northwestern Ohio communities. Estimated cost $390,000.

(4) Construction of six miles of pipeline — 2 feet in diameter — in Lorain County to increase gas deliveries to the Elyria-Lorain-Parma areas. Estimated cost $675,000.

(5) Construction of five miles of pipeline — almost 2 feet in diameter — in Hardin and Allen Counties to deliver more gas to Marion and other north central Ohio communities. Estimated cost $430,000.

Ohio Fuel also will spend

$930,000 to purchase and install a 2,800 horsepower compressor unit at the gas company's Crawford Compressor Station near Sugar Grove, Fairfield County, and $745,000 to purchase and install a 2,000 horsepower compressor unit at the company's Pavonia storage area in Richland County.

The new compressor engine at Crawford Station will be installed as part of a long-range program begun in 1965 to replace engines that have been in use at the station for more than 50 years. The engine at Pavonia will substantially increase the storage capacity at this underground storage location.

In addition, in 1969, Ohio Fuel plans to drill 28 new storage wells and 14 replacement wells in the company's vast storage system at a cost of more than $1.4 million. Ohio Fuel maintains 14 underground storage fields strategically located throughout the state. These facilities, with more than 1,900 wells on 368,000 acres of land, were developed at a cost of more than $95 million.

Baker said that underground storage — pioneered by Ohio Fuel engineers — is one of the main reasons gas rates for Ohio homes are among the lowest in the nation, and as much as 36 per cent lower than other Midwestern states.

He noted that Ohio Fuel had a record volume of 259.4 billion cubic feet of natural gas in underground storage at the beginning of the current heating season. "On the coldest winter day about 55 per cent of the gas used by Columbia Gas of Ohio customers comes from underground storage," the gas company manager said.

"Our 1969 construction budget reflects the continued accelerated growth of the gas industry and of Ohio itself," Baker said. "As demands for natural gas increase, we will continue to expand and improve our facilities and operating methods so that we may con-

Tingler On List Of Most Wanted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The FBI has placed the name of Richard Tingler, 28, wanted in two multiple slayings in Ohio, on its list of 10 most wanted men.

Tingler, reputed to be a female impersonator, is charged in the slaying of two teen-agers at a Columbus dairy store Oct. 20 and in the slaying of four persons whose bodies were found in Cleveland's Rockefeller Park Sept. 16.

He was working for a Columbus department store at the time of the Columbus slaying. A few days later a car that was believed to have been Tingler's was found abandoned in Cleveland.

Hickel Gives Views On Conservation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's secretary of the interior, Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel, says the federal government has been wrong in placing large amounts of public land aside for strictly conservation use.

"Just to withdraw an area for conservation purposes—a vast area—and lock it up for no reason... and not make it available to the public is wrong, in my opinion," Hickel told a news conference Wednesday.

CHS Tigers Host Hillsboro In League Action Friday

Circleville hosts Hillsboro Friday in South Central Ohio League action at the new high school.

Browns Set For Cagey Dallas Moves

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Houston recalled the old days, when Dallas was a new team in the National Football League.

"That doesn't happen much anymore," Houston said. "They are all thoroughly familiar with it by now. This is pretty much a veteran team with excellent personnel."

Houston and the Browns' defensive unit worked the hardest Wednesday to get ready for the NFL's Eastern Conference play-off with the Cowboys at Municipal Stadium Saturday.

The biggest worry seems to be to try and figure out what the Cowboys will do.

"They do a good job of disguising their plays," Houston continued. "After they shift from the I to another formation we automatically make the defensive adjustment. This must be done constantly and we just can't afford any mental lapses."

Dallas has beaten the Browns four straight times, including a 52-14 victory in the Eastern Conference playoff last year in the Cotton Bowl.

A sellout crowd, meaning over 80,000, is predicted for Saturday.

Dayton Defeats Port Huron, 6-3

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton moved within two points of International Hockey League-leading Toledo Wednesday night with a 6-3 victory over Port Huron.

Chuck Kelly, playing his first game after being purchased from the Columbus Checkers, scored first, followed by Tom Iannone.

COLTS HAVE TO STOP THEM—Three of the reasons the Minnesota Vikings are playing the Baltimore Colts for the Western Conference crown in Baltimore Sunday, December 22, are pictured. Quarterback Joe Kapp does the throwing and backs Bill Brown and Dave Osborn do the running. Winner plays for the NFL title the following weekend.

Kentucky Wesleyan Leads Cage Poll; Central State 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Kentucky Wesleyan has almost doubled its lead today over runner-up Central State of Ohio in the latest Associated Press' small-college basketball poll after taking two more victories onto its unbeaten record.

The Panthers, winners over Arkansas State and Southwest Missouri State last week for a 5-0 mark, drew 12 first-place votes and 268 points in the balloting by a national panel of 14 sports writers and broadcasters.

The Owensboro, Ky., team's lead is 62 points compared to 33 last week. Central State collected two votes for the top position and 206 points in the latest vote based on games through last Saturday. Central State was idle last week.

have hosted Chillicothe and Westfall in the Mill Street gymnasium.

Hillsboro will bring a 3-3 record to the Tiger gym. The Indians are currently tied with Circleville for the cellar spot in the league standings.

They have lost to Wilmington, 82-59, and to Miami Trace, 72-44.

HILLSBORO is averaging 60 points a game as a team and has allowed opponents to score an average of 65 points per game.

Circleville in its five losses is averaging 60.8 points per game, but the tiny Tigers have given up 75.2 points.

The Tigers will again be at a size disadvantage. The Indians have a 6-4 center in Ken Zimmerman. He is not their leading scorer, however.

Mike Moses, a three year veteran of the Hillsboro varsity, is hitting the nets at a 17.6 clip per game. Richard Beatty, a 6-2 forward, is averaging 14.1 points a game and Doug Trout 11.5.

Coached by Vernon Hooper, the Indians have been a running team and there is no indication the veteran mentor is changing his tactics this year.

Moses, Beatty, Trout and Wayne Strain are all lettermen from last year's squad.

WITH both coaches favoring a run and gun offense, the fans attending the game should be in for plenty of excitement.

Randy Halley is leading the Circleville offense with a 17.2 point per game average. The little redhead from Vinton County can score from outside as well as on the fast break.

Supporting Halley in scoring is steady Dave Horst who is averaging 15.2 points per game. Horst is after his third varsity award this year.

Charlie Jackson has a 10.6 average in scoring for the Tigers. Ty Ankrom is averaging just a little over seven points a game. Dave Hopkins and Mike Neal's six each. These six Tigers have been seeing most of the action so far this season.

Circleville has been close to winning in three of its games. Even in the Westfall game the Tigers were within striking distance until the fourth quarter.

Only Grandview has defeated the Tigers by a large margin.

Tiger fans are confident that the scrappy bunch of cagers that Coach Garold Sowders has been fielding will start winning soon.

There could be a near capacity crowd on hand at the new gym because those who have been following CHS this year want to be on hand when that first win comes.

Niagara, Bowling Green To Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS One of college basketball's biggest little crowd pleasers — Niagara University Calvin Murphy — hits Ohio tonight looking for revenge against the Bowling Green Falcons.

The 5-foot-10 Murphy, who scored 38.2 points a game last year as a sophomore, leads his team against BG at the Cleveland Arena, where the Falcons won last season 94-86.

Murphy is scoring better than ever this year, including 68 points against Syracuse Dec. 7. He also twirls the baton, but only at football games.

In Wednesday night's top game, sixth ranked Cincinnati narrowly escaped a second straight loss on its current California trip. The Bearcats nipped California 71-79 as Rick Roberson sank two free throws with 17 seconds left.

In other league action this weekend, the big game is at Wilmington. The Hurricane hosts Miami Trace in a battle that will determine the league leader.

Washington C. H. travels to Greenfield. The only Saturday games scheduled find Miami Trace at Teays Valley and Wilmington will be at Franklin.

Cal led at the hal 38-33, but then UC's center Jim Ard got hot. He finished with 25 points to lead the scorers, and Roberson totaled 23.

Cincinnati lost to Southern California Monday night and wraps up its three-game West Coast trip Friday night at Stanford.

Ashland slipped up on its home court, going down to its first defeat of the season, 41-40 to Grove City. The winning Pennsylvanians, also unbeaten going into the game, came from behind to win and froze the ball most of the last three minutes.

In other games, Baldwin Wallace continued a tour of the South with an 85-79 victory over Bethune-Cook to Florida; Case topped Adelbert 82-72, Detroit College beat Urbana 73-69 and Cedarville lost to Northwood, Ind. 90-88.

Saltcreek Nears County Junior High Cage Title

Saltcreek Twp. wrapped up at least a share of the Pickaway County Junior High League title Wednesday, handing visiting Washington Twp. a 52-16 loss.

In other action Wednesday, Scioto took over second place in the league race with a 43-32 decision over Monroe. Ashville defeated Pickaway, 48-37, and Walnut downed Jackson, 43-24.

Saltcreek is undefeated in six league starts. Scioto has lost only to the warriors and is in second place all alone.

Monroe and Walnut both have 4-2 records. Ashville is playing 500 basketball with three wins and three losses. Pickaway has won two and lost four.

JACKSON and Washington are both winless this season.

Dave Chaffin paced Scioto over Monroe in the battle for second place. Chaffin scored 16 points. Chester Dawson led the Monroe Indians with eight markers. Scioto led all the way in the game.

Ashville was leading Pickaway 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, 29-18 at halftime and 37-29 when the final six minutes began.

Mike Pettibone scored 19 for the Broncos and Tim Search had 23 for the Pirates.

Walnut was leading Jackson 15-3 at the end of the first quarter, 29-3 at halftime and 34-10 at the end of the third period. Gary Brady notched 12 points and Jay Brinker eight for the winners as coach Delmar Doddrell turned loose his reserves in the second half. Johnson's eight led the losers.

Saltcreek shutout Washington without a point for the first two quarters. The score was 27-0 at halftime.

SALT CREEK Coach Doyné Wiggins emptied his bench in the second half, and Washington finished with 16 points.

Tim Justice scored 10 points for the winners, Jim Bigham nine and Jay Justice seven.

There is just one round of games scheduled in the league following the holidays. The annual tournament will be held Jan. 18, 25 and Feb. 1.

Don Shula Named NFL Coach Of Year

By JACK HAMD Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shula, the boss man of the Baltimore Colts, has been named Coach of the Year in the National Football League by the overwhelming vote of a 48-man panel for The Associated Press.

A committee composed of three sports writers or sportscasters from each of the league's 16 cities gave Shula 31 votes.

Jim Dooley, who did such an outstanding job with the Chicago Bears despite a series of crippling injuries to his quarterbacks and Gale Sayers, received eight votes.

Blanton Collier, whose Cleveland Browns will meet Dallas for the Eastern Conference title Saturday at Cleveland, drew six votes. Tom Landry, Dallas coach, got one vote. Two members of the panel did not vote in this category.

Shula shared the coach of the year honors with George Allen of Los Angeles last year and won it all alone in 1964, the year his Colts were knocked off by Cleveland in the title game.

The 38-year-old Baltimore coach has compiled an enviable record of 63-18-3 in his six seasons as head man of the Colts. A hard-nosed defensive back who spent seven years in the NFL, Shula was an assistant coach at Virginia and Kentucky before he went into the pros as a defensive coach at Detroit in 1960.

Owners Eye New Baseball Commissioner

CHICAGO (AP) — Deciding against a waiting game, baseball's major league owners meet Friday to consider a commissioner to succeed William D. Eckert who resigned just 13 days ago.

Eckert, 60, resigned Dec. 6 in a stunning windup of the majors' winter meeting. The action, reportedly taken at the direction of club owners meeting in executive session, ended a criticized three-year regime.

The need for a baseball man seems the rallying cry in the owners' move to install the game's fifth czar as quickly as possible in the face of growing problems, such as a threatened player strike next spring.

Boomed as a prime candidate, at least in the past, is Mike Burke, who became a director of the New York Yankees four years ago when the Columbia Broadcasting system bought the club and then ascended to Yankee presidency in 1966.

Other potential candidates, more steeped in baseball than Burke, include Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, knowledgeable on both sides of the player-owner fence; Chub Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants; Joe Cronin, president of the American League, and general managers Lee MacPhail of the Yankees and Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A National-American League cleavage could develop as the owners size up the best candidate. One of the things that irked the NL about Eckert was the commissioner's failure to veto the AL's gun-jumping a year ago in expanding to 12 clubs in 1969.

The best PGA golf tour scores of 1967 were 61s. They were turned in by Dave Hill at Hartford, Conn., and Gay Brewer at Pensacola, Fla.

LSU Trips Florida, As Maravich Tallies 45

PETE MARAVICH

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer

What happens when the top collegiate basketball scorer meets the top rebounder? The high scorer wins—in this case at least.

Which is to say that Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana

State led the Tigers to an upset overtime 93-89 victory over Neal Walk and Florida at Baton Rouge Wednesday night.

The 6-foot-5 Maravich threw in 45 points, including six in the extra period, to overcome the 34 points and 14 rebounds by the 6-10 Walk.

Maravich, who now has 195 points in four games in defense of his national scoring crown, got an assist when Walk fouled out with four minutes left in regulation time.

"If you had been in there, it would have been all the difference," said Maravich to Walk afterwards. Walk questioned the fifth personal foul called on him, for charging into 5-8 Rich Lupcho.

"That little fellow got under me," Walk said. "I don't think it should have been a foul."

Maravich collected his 45 points on 17 of 32 shots from the field and on 11 of 15 free throws. In addition, he handed out five assists. Before he fouled out, Walk hit on 14 of 27 field goal tries and on six of 10 from the charity line.

Florida overcame an early 13-point LSU lead to tie the regulation game at 83-83 and took a one-point edge in the OT. A lay-up by Maravich with three minutes left put LSU ahead for good at 87-86.

Pistol Pete's heroics overshadowed the 71-70 come-from-behind victory sixth-ranked Cincinnati scored over 15th-ranked California at Berkeley. Two free throws by Rick Roberson with 17 seconds left pulled it out for the Bearcats.

Lasalle, No. 16 in the Associated Press rankings, also came from behind to down Canisius at Philadelphia 68-56. Western Kentucky, No. 18, was beaten on the road by Butler 67-65 while 19th-ranked Louisville edged Memphis State at home 67-66 on Marv Selvy's basket in the last second.

SPORTS

18 The Circleville Herald, Thur. Dec. 19, 1968 Circleville, Ohio

CAPITAL CAGER — Russ Merrin, a graduate of Logan Elm, is playing on the Capital University varsity basketball squad. Merrin is averaging 9.5 points a game as a sophomore. He has made 12 of 12 free throws and 13 of 32 field goal attempts. His brother, Keith, a coach at Logan Elm and now at Mt. Vernon, was also a Capital player.

Indiana Puts Miami Down In ABA Cellar With Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Last place in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division was the only thing at stake, but Fred Lewis and Bobby Hooper figured out a way to add a little drama to Indiana's 122-118 overtime victory over Miami Wednesday night.

Hooper calmly drilled in a 26-foot three-point shot with just 14 seconds left to tie the game 109-109 and force the overtime, then Lewis scored eight of the Pacers 13 points in the extra session for the victory.

Meanwhile, New Orleans rallied from behind to trip New York 117-113 at Jackson, Miss., Denver whipped Houston 111-102 and Kentucky stopped Los Angeles 115-107 in the night's other games.

Indiana, paced by Bob Netolicky's career high 39 points, had led 58-55 at halftime in a game that was tight all the way. Lewis finished with 29, while Skip Thoren topped the Floridians with 28.

New Orleans trailed by nine points at the start of the final quarter before rallying to defeat the Nets. Gerald Govan's tip-in with 43 seconds left put the Bucs ahead 115-113, and Steve Jones iced with a pair of free throws with 14 seconds remaining.

James Jones and Austin "Red" Robbins each scored 27 for New Orleans, while Walt Simon had 28 for New York.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Baltimore Bullets have discovered the secret for keeping atop of things in the National Basketball Association's torrid Eastern Division race—don't lose. It's about the only way.

The Bullets rode some timely late shooting by Kevin Loughery to their sixth straight victory Wednesday night—a 109-100 conquest of San Francisco.

Since runner-up Philadelphia whipped Seattle 115-111, the Bullets needed the triumph to preserve their precarious one game edge over the 76ers.

In other games, Detroit survived a 40-point shelling by rookie Elvin Hayes for a 124-112 victory over San Diego, New York turned back Boston 104-98, Atlanta stopped Milwaukee 122-116 and Phoenix defeated Cincinnati 123-114.

The Bullets had only an 80-76 lead after three quarters against the crippled Warriors, but then Loughery scored 10 of his 26 points to put it away.

Teammate Gus Johnson contributed 21 points and 23 rebounds—15 in the final half—and Wes Unseld had 26 rebounds and 15 points to offset a 30-point showing by San Francisco's Jeff Mullins.

The Warriors, suffering their eighth loss in nine games, played without star Nate Thurmond and Clyde Lee.

Philadelphia, in extending its mastery over Seattle, staved off a last-ditch rally by the Super Sonics and whipped them for the 10th consecutive time. The MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Angelo Cordero Jr. has taken a commanding nine-race lead over Alvaro Pineda, 329 to 320, with 13 days left to decide the 1968 National Jockey Championship.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A spokesman for the University of Richmond said Wednesday the school has received no official word on the eligibility of star Spider-quarterback Buster O'Brien for the Dec. 27 Tangerine Bowl game in Orlando, Fla.

Morrall NFL Most Valued Player

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Morrall, obtained in a trade as a backup quarterback for John Unitas, played the role to the hilt during the 1968 National Football League season.

Morrall not only replaced the ailing Unitas as the Baltimore Colts' quarterback, he also succeeded Unitas as the NFL's Most Valuable Player in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 34-year-old Morrall, playing for his fifth NFL team, accepted the honor Wednesday about as unobtrusively as he took over as Baltimore's No. 1 signal caller.

"This is certainly the biggest personal honor I've ever received," he said quietly. Then came a gross understatement:

"Never in my wildest dreams did I think anything like this would develop at the time of the trade."

The Colts picked up their gem

Goaltending Tells Story Of NHL Action Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Hockey League's goaltending story Wednesday night was something old, something new and something borrowed and the results left the Oakland Seals, Los Angeles Kings and New York Rangers feeling blue.

Something old was Toronto's 44-year-old Johnny Bower kicking out 30 shots as the red-hot Maple Leafs turned back Oakland 5-2 on third-period goals by Floyd Smith, Bob Pulford and George Armstrong.

Something new was Montreal rookie Tony Esposito, 23, still unbeaten after six NHL starts as the Canadiens rallied to tie Los Angeles 2-2 on Yvan Cournoyer's goal with 3:25 to play.

Something borrowed was Chicago's Denis DeJordy, brilliant in a 3-1 victory over New York in his first game since coming back from a five-week exile in the minors.

his elbow in the final preseason game and, suddenly, Morrall was No. 1.

In his 13th season, Morrall wound up as the league's top passer under the NFL's complicated grading system—about the only passing honor which has eluded Unitas during a distinguished career.

Morrall completed 182 of 317 passes for 2,909 yards and 26 touchdowns while leading Baltimore to a 13-1 record, the Coastal Division championship, and Sunday's Western Conference title game against the Minnesota Vikings.

'Hank' Severeid Succumbs In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Henry L. "Hank" Severeid, who sports writers say dropped just one foul ball during his long career as a catcher in the American League, will be buried here today.

Severeid, 77, died in his sleep Tuesday. He was former manager of the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League and for 15 years served as catcher for the St. Louis Browns, Cincinnati Reds, Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

At the time of his death, he was still active as a scout for the Boston Red Sox.

Survivors include his widow and three daughters.

Eisenhower-Nixon Wedding Plans Still Kept Secret

NEW YORK (AP) — When Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower said they wanted their wedding Sunday to be a private affair, they really meant it.

The guest-list for the marriage of the daughter of the President-elect to the grandson of the former president is still a secret—although it has been learned there are few political or public figures included. Information about Julie's wedding gown, her attendants' dresses, the single-ring ceremony at Marble Collegiate Church and the reception at the Plaza Hotel will not be released until the last minute.

And there will be no news coverage allowed either of the ceremony or the reception.

"Julie said she did not want anyone watching that wedding who was not a personal friend or someone she knows," Mrs. Gerry Van der Heuvel, Julie's mother's press aide, said Thursday.

Mrs. Van der Heuvel did give out a few tidbits—including the fact that the ceremony will be broadcast, via closed circuit television, to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who is in Walter Reed Army Hospital recuperating from a series of heart attacks.

She also said that David's sister Barbara Anne, who was married Nov. 16, will be a bridesmaid and her husband, Fernando Echavarría-Urbe of Bogotá, Colombia, will be an usher. Julie was one of Barbara Anne's attendants.

Asked about parties for the bride, Mrs. Van der Heuvel said there would be a luncheon given for Julie Friday at the Cosmopolitan Club by Susan Harvin of Houston, Tex., who will be a bridesmaid.

The rehearsal will be Saturday afternoon, by which time the church will be decorated with Christmas greenery and red and white poinsettias the Nixons requested for the platform at the head of the aisle.

The rehearsal dinner, given by David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, will be Saturday night at a Manhattan restaurant.

Sirhan Jury Faces Lockup

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The jury hearing the murder trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan will be locked up nights and weekends, Judge Herbert V. Walker ruled Wednesday in Superior Court. The prosecution objected that this would make selection of a jury difficult since the trial of the man charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is likely to last three months.

Emile Zola Berman, New York attorney, was officially approved at the brief court session to join Sirhan's two other defense attorneys. Berman, 65, told newsmen he supported Kennedy for president. Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, is to go on trial Jan. 7.

Blind Couple Is Held Up, Threatened

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A gunman robbed a blind couple of all their Christmas shopping money and threatened to kill their frightened, weeping son unless he kept quiet, police said Wednesday.

Deputy inspector of detectives Kenneth Marple said the robbery victims, Kenneth Northrop, 33, and his wife, Carolyn, had gone Christmas shopping Tuesday night, escorted by their sighted son, James, 8.

The gunman accosted the family on a South Side street, stuck a pistol in Northrop's ribs and told him, "I want your money."

Mrs. Northrop told the man, "We are blind and we don't have much money. Let us keep what little we have."

"I don't have any money," the gunman answered. "I'm a hippie. I can't get a job."

The Northrop boy started to cry. The man pointed a gun at his head and told the parents, "Keep him quiet or I'll kill him."

The gunman took $51, then fled.

Blaze Destroys Automatic Laundry

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Fire which started in a back room of a coin laundry in Prospect Wednesday night destroyed the laundry and damaged a supermarket.

Fire Chief Phillip Retterer of Prospect, south of here, was one of two firemen treated for smoke inhalation. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Berger Board OKs Balanced 1969 Budget

Financial Picture Dim For Hospital At Outset of Year

Berger Hospital's Board of Governors approved its 1969 operating budget Wednesday night during its regular monthly meeting.

At the same time, the board learned that the hospital was on the brink of a financial crisis. Harry Clifton, finance chairman, reported that operating funds were exhausted "last week" and another source had to be tapped to complete payroll.

Clifton noted that a request had to be made for funds due the hospital from Medicare amounting to $14,000. He added that the financial picture "doesn't look too bright going into a new year."

The 1969 'balanced' budget calls for expenditures of $833,455 with an equal amount of income. The budget is based on an overall utilization of 14,980 patient days or 72 per cent occupancy. This represents an increase of 11.08 per cent over 1968 occupancy.

A BREAKDOWN of the budget shows $483,826 earmarked for salaries with the remaining $349,629 in other expenses. The overall salary scheduled includes a 3 per cent increase over 1968 figures.

In other action, the board authorized a new contract with Robert M. Craig, anesthetist. Under the new two-year contract, Craig will service the hospital on a full-time basis, but will be self-employed.

Authorization of final payment to the Singer Co. for air conditioning units was granted. Installation of the units has not been completed, according to James Stambaugh, administrator. Stambaugh noted that the G. E. Beery Co., Columbus, had failed to complete its contract agreement for installation of the units and necessary action was being taken before final payment is made.

The board tabled election of a vice president until the January meeting. The vice president's chair was vacated by the recent death of Mr. Emmitt Crist. New officers will be named at the January session.
